Words of Reflections

Abbie Davis (Ma Dear) was born May 17, 1903 to the Union of John Farrell and Mary Aubry-Farrell in Homer, Louisiana. She was preceded in death by her husband of 41 years R. D. Davis a (sweet man), both parents, eleven siblings, one grandson, and one great-granddaughter.

She was educated in the Homer Louisiana School District. Her years of labor on earth included being a production worker at the Ammunition Plant in Minden, Louisiana, she later moved on to being in the house keeping department at Clayborne Parish Library, where she worked until retiring.

After her retirement Abbie of course didn't choose to sit down in the shade. She continued marketing her hardwork hobbing; tilling; planting, and harvesting the corp of her oversized garden. Well she of course did most of the supervising and gardened with such perfection that she was awarded and given notariety by the local newspaper.

"Ma Dear" loved the Lord and was a member of the Mt. Dillard C.M.E. Church and served as church treasurer, and a sunday school teacher until her health began to fail. She moved to KCMO and resided with her daughter Jessie until the Lord called her to sweet rest.

She leaves to cherish fond memories; on daughter, Jessie (Alvin) Hampton-Williams; one sister, Ludes Johnson; one grandson, Robert (Mary) Hampton, six great-grandchildren, one great-great-grandchild, 38 nieces, 8 nephews and a host of other relatives and friends.

Miss Me But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road, the sun has set for me. I want no rites in gloom filled rooms. Why cry for a soul set free? Miss me a little, but not too long; and not with your head bowed low. Remember the love we once shared, Miss me, but let me go. For this is a journey we must take, and each must go alone. It's all part of the masters' plan. A step on the road home. When you are lonely and sick at heart go to the friend we all know, and bury your sorrows in doing good and cheer.

'Miss Me, But Let Me Go!'
